THE EQUITY SPECIALISTS

Davis New York Venture Fund

Selective. Attractive Growth. Undervalued.

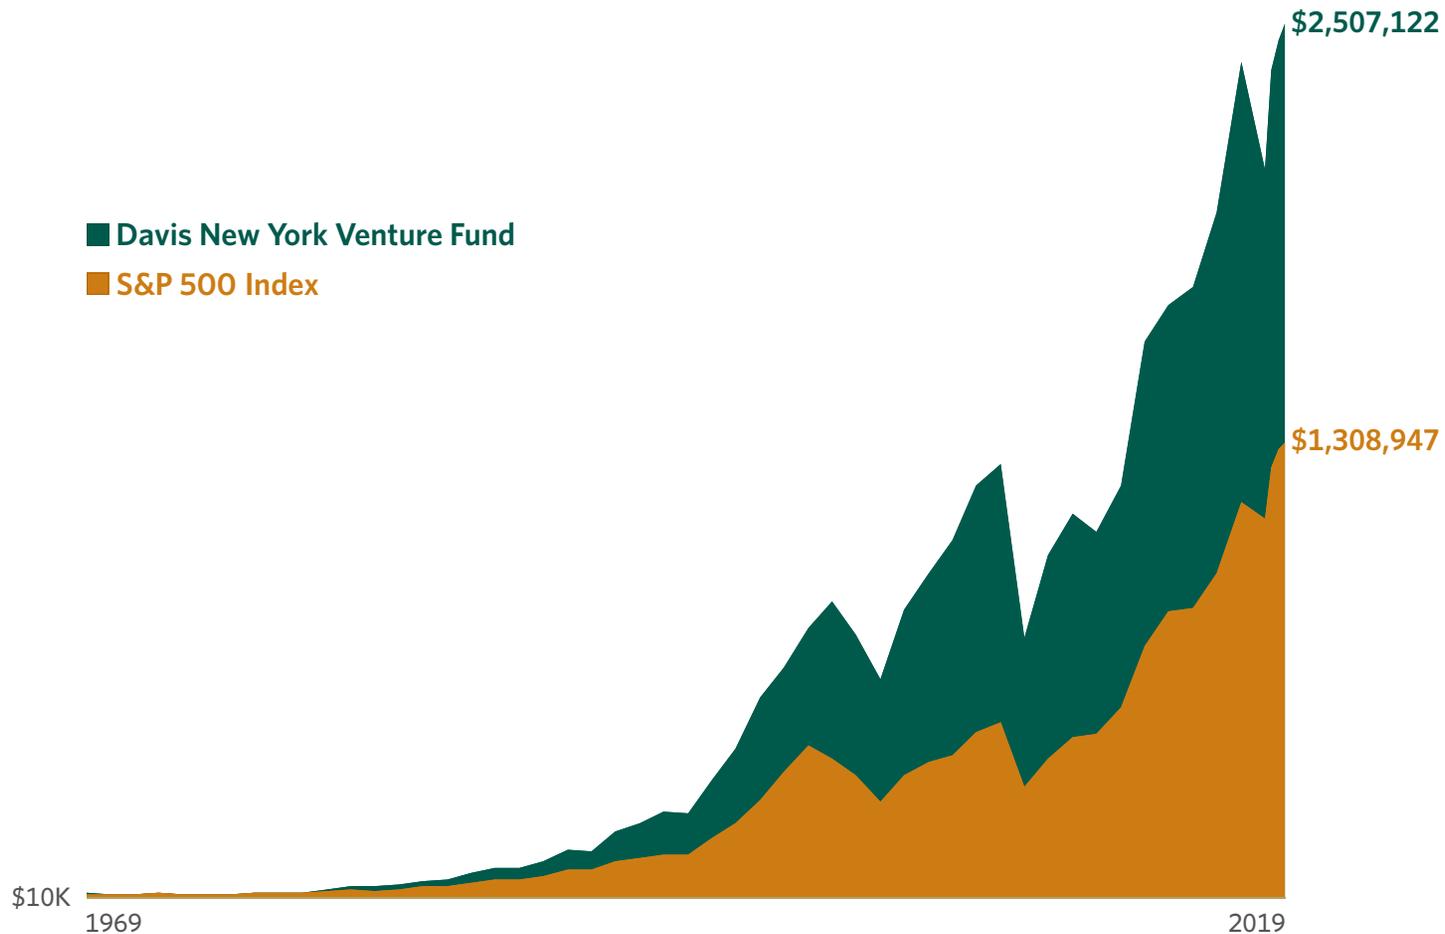

“Today, the Davis New York Venture Fund’s holdings can be characterized by three characteristics: selective, attractive growth potential and undervalued. Selectivity allows us to reject the vast majority of companies that make up the index and instead build a portfolio of those few companies that have above-average growth and below-average valuations. This combination is a value investor’s dream and should create wealth for our shareholders in the years and decades to come.”

Chris Davis, Portfolio Manager

		Davis New York Venture Fund	S&P 500 Index
Selective	Holdings	50	505
Attractive Growth	EPS Growth (5 Year) ¹	20.1%	16.4%
Undervalued	P/E (Forward) ²	14.5x	18.3x

The Attractive Growth and Undervalued reference in this piece relates to underlying characteristics of the portfolio holdings. There is no guarantee that the Fund’s performance will be positive as equity markets are volatile and an investor may lose money. Past performance is not a guarantee of future returns. Performance may vary.

The Portfolio: Positioned for Opportunities in Today's Market

Global Leaders	Some of the strongest and best-known companies in the world make up the largest portion of the Portfolio. Buying world class businesses at attractive prices is a value investors dream.
Blue Chips of Tomorrow	Fast-moving companies that use innovation to disrupt the economics of larger but less agile competitors. Over the decades, we have seen many examples of today's disrupters emerging as tomorrow's blue chips.
Dominant, Less Known Businesses	This group dominates dull but necessary niches in the global economy. These businesses are not household names to U.S. investors, yet can generate attractive returns.
Beneficiaries of Short-Term Misperceptions	Shortsighted investors often avoid companies that have suffered through challenging periods, creating an opportunity for long-term investors willing to look beyond today's headlines.

1. Five-Year EPS Growth Rate is the average annualized earning per share growth for a company over the past five years. The values for the portfolio and index are the weighted average of the five-year EPS Growth Rates of the stocks in the portfolio or index. 2. Forward Price/Earnings (Forward P/E) Ratio is a stock's current price divided by the company's forecasted earnings for the following 12 months. The values for the portfolio and index are the weighted average of the P/E ratios of the stocks in the portfolio or index. 3. As of 9/30/19, Class A shares without a sales charge. Figures will vary in future periods. Past performance is not a guarantee of future results. 4. See endnotes for a description of Outperforming the Market. 5. As of 6/30/19. Includes Davis Advisors, the Davis family and Foundation, our employees, and Fund directors.

Outperforming the Market. Davis New York Venture Fund's average annual total returns for Class A shares were compared against the returns of the S&P 500 Index as of the end of each quarter for all time periods shown from 2/17/69 through 9/30/19. The Fund's returns assume an investment in Class A shares on the first day of each period with all dividends and capital gain distributions reinvested for the time period. The returns are not adjusted for any sales charge that may be imposed. If a sales charge were imposed, the reported figures would be lower. The figures shown reflect past results; past performance is not a guarantee of future results. There can be no guarantee that the Fund will continue to deliver consistent investment performance. The performance presented includes periods of bear markets when performance was negative. Equity markets are volatile and an investor may lose money. Returns for other share classes will vary.

Objective and Risks. Davis New York Venture Fund's investment objective is long-term growth of capital. There can be no assurance that the Fund will achieve its objective. The Fund invests primarily in equity securities issued by large companies with market capitalizations of at least $10 billion. Some important risks of an investment in the Fund are: common stock risk: an adverse event may have a negative impact on a company and could result in a decline in the price of its common stock; depository receipts risk: depository receipts may trade at a discount (or premium) to the underlying security and may be less liquid than the underlying securities listed on an exchange; emerging market risk: securities of issuers in emerging and developing markets may present risks not found in more mature markets; fees and expenses risk: the Fund may not earn enough through income and capital appreciation to offset the operating expenses of the Fund; financial services risk: investing a significant portion of assets in the financial services sector may cause the Fund to be more sensitive to problems affecting financial companies; foreign country risk: foreign companies may be subject to greater risk as foreign economies may not be as strong or diversified; As of 9/30/19, the Fund had approximately 25.0% of assets invested in foreign companies; foreign currency risk: the change in value of a foreign currency against the U.S. dollar will result in a change in the U.S. dollar value of securities denominated in that foreign currency; headline risk: the Fund may invest in a company when the company becomes the center of controversy. The company's stock may never recover or may become worthless; large-capitalization companies risk: companies with $10 billion or more in market capitalization generally experience slower rates of growth in earnings per share than do mid- and small-capitalization companies; manager risk: poor security selection may cause the Fund to underperform relevant benchmarks; mid- and small-capitalization companies risk: companies with less than $10 billion in market capitalization typically have more limited product lines, markets and financial resources than larger companies, and may trade less frequently and in more limited volume; and stock market risk: stock markets have periods of rising prices and periods of falling prices, including sharp declines. See the prospectus for a complete description of the principal risks.

We gather our index data from a combination of reputable sources, including, but not limited to, Thomson Financial, Wilshire Atlas, Lipper and index websites.

The S&P 500 Index is an unmanaged index of 500 selected common stocks, most of which are listed on the New York Stock Exchange. The index is adjusted for dividends, weighted towards stocks with large market capitalizations and represents approximately two-thirds of the total market value of all domestic common stocks. Investments cannot be made directly in an index.

After 1/31/20, this material must be accompanied by a supplement containing performance data for the most recent quarter end.
